By Arthur Brisbane

THE "PURELY NORDIC" CRAZE has gone far. A scientific association of German "racists" proposes to plan a new state in which only those "purely Nordic" will be admitted. The scientists allege that blood tests will distinguish the purely Nordic from the mixed breeds. That's interesting, as there is not on the surface of the earth any single sample of a pure breed, whether of "Nordic," African, Semitic, Mongolian, African or Malaysian strain. All the breeds were mixed up long ago. That new Nordic state, by the way, would exclude the founder of Christianity, whose mother was a Jewess. He, certainly, was not "purely Nordic."

BETTING yesterday was 2 to 1 against the nomination of "Al" Smith, 2 1/2 to 1 against McAdoo. Politicians that know say the odds should be on McAdoo. But friends of "Al" Smith probably influence the betting considerably. And then Wall Street, including its big oil companies, DOES NOT WANT McADOO. That will probably be the McAdoo men's best chance to "win the election," which Louis Sobel says is bound to come up in the convention and in the campaign.

THE "OIL MATTER," as far as it concerns McAdoo, resides in the fact that, after he left the cabinet to practice law, all men, among others, retained him—not for any work in connection with the naval reserve or any other oil scandal. If every lawyer taking such fees were guilty of crime, there would be few big lawyers at large.

McADOO on his triumphal tour East predicts that he will not only win the nomination and win the election, but will also carry Pennsylvania. Those that take the trouble to find out how labor feels toward McAdoo will find that prediction by no means prophetic. If railroad workers all over the United States would talk to their friends and to other workers about McAdoo, as they have talked to this writer, the country would learn something new about the power of labor.

YOU READ "Foster's" red group of Communists dominate the St. Paul convention? And you read of the Communists gathering in Moscow, including ten "Reds" from the United States. And all of that in the United States means only exactly NOTHING. Of a hundred and twelve million people, in this country, not half a million know the names of the Communist delegates that went to Moscow.

COMMUNISM and revolution have no chance in a country where 90 per cent. of the opportunities are still open, and anybody who cares to take the trouble can make himself independent.

It is difficult in Europe—not so many opportunities there.

MR. DAWES will mercilessly denounce "party demagogues." Denouncing is easy; gathering votes is less so. Samuel Hill, son-in-law of the late great railroad builder, James J. Hill, and one of the many wealthy citizens of Seattle, says: "Great sections in the Northwest are bankrupt. Fourteen hundred banks out there have suspended."

GENERAL DAWES knows you can't fix that situation by "denouncing demagogues." It is much better to say what you intend to do for those who see themselves bankrupt through no fault of their own.

SENATOR WALSH, of Montana, who fought and beat the copper kings and then went to the Senate, is to be permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention. What is a Catholic. The McAdoo men consider his election continued on Page 17, Column 1.

DEMOCRAT SENATORS HOLDING FORT AGAINST G. O. P.

RHODE ISLAND SOLONS IN RECORD CONTINUOUS SESSION

Arrow points to speaker's rostrum of the Rhode Island Senate, with the head of its presiding officer, Democratic Lieutenant-Governor Felix A. Toupin, just appearing over his desk. At 2 p. m. today he had been without sleep for 54 hours, having been furnished with meals as he remained in the chair to direct the Democratic filibuster which his party vows will not end until Republican majority agrees to the passage of the Constitutional Convention bill. On the extreme left is a Democratic Senator reading a newspaper so that the floor may be held for his party. The Democrats are speaking in relays on any subject they care to discuss or read, while the Republicans do little but sleep.

MYSTERY FOUND IN NORTH END EXPLOSION

The body of a man, seated in the ruins of a Charter street building, wrecked by an explosion and seared with fire—but with no burns or marks of violence on his body—gave the police and the medical examiner a mystery today.

The explosion and fire occurred in a store at No. 15 Charter street, North End, conducted by Vincent Borilli, thirty-eight, who lives at No. 418 Hancock street.

More than two score men, women and children, trapped in the tenements of the other four floors, were rescued by police and volunteers.

In the ruins was found the body of Pietro Patti, thirty-five, who lived in a tenement next door. Charred ruins surrounded him, but the body bore no burns. Nor had he died from suffocation or strangulation, according to the medical examiner.

The store was locked on the outside with padlock, which the police continued on Page 6, Column 2.

MacReady, Veteran of Non-Stop Flight, Escapes Death

Dighton, O., June 19.—Lieutenant John A. MacReady, veteran of the American non-stop cross-country flight, escaped death by making a parachute jump from his plane when it burst into flames at an altitude of 1,500 feet near here. When the plane hit the earth thousands ran to the scene. They stood by helplessly because heat from the burning wreck kept them at a distance, fearing that the pilot was imprisoned in the flames. As the engines sputtered away, MacReady pushed through the crowd and said he had landed about a quarter of a mile away.

YOUTH ADMITS HIGH SCHOOL AT $40,000 RAZOR BLADE THEFT

The theft of $40,000 worth of razor blades and 229,000 razor blade envelopes from the Gillette Safety Razor Company, South Boston, was revealed today when two youths were arraigned in South Boston Court.

Edward J. O'Keefe, twenty-one, of No. 223 Rindge avenue, Cambridge, pleaded guilty. Francis Hayes, twenty, of No. 253 Third street, South Boston, was found not guilty and discharged.

O'Keefe was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction, but sentence was continued to June 27 on request of the police that the stolen envelopes might be traced.

The company loses heavily through the missing envelopes, the inspector declared, as unscrupulous dealers use them to enclose damaged or unfinished blades, which they sell at cut prices.

VICTIMS SENT TO HOSPITAL

Chlorine Fumes Flood Chamber, and the Battling Solons Agree to Recess of an Hour

Providence, June 19.—Four Republican Senators, including Senator Arthur A. E. Keenan of Portsmouth, Republican leader, were "gassed" into unconsciousness today when chlorine fumes were loosed in the Senate chamber.

The poison gas was planted in the chamber as the third continuous day of the record-breaking filibuster was getting under way.

The Senators "gassed" in addition to Senator Sherman, were:

HARRY A. SANDERSON, Republican, Johnston.

WILLIAM L. SHARPE, Republican, East Greenwich.

FREDERICK H. COLE, Republican, Warren.

All four of the Senators were taken to the John Brown Memorial Hospital, where Senators Sherman and Sanderson are said to be in a serious condition.

Floor Leader Sherman had to be carried to the ambulance on a stretcher. The other three were revived sufficiently to walk, with aid, to the conveyance.

Articles and 3 papers were slipped into the Senate Chamber today at 8 a. m. while the bag-gardened members of the body were endeavoring to recuperate their powers in a weary battle that has been continuous since 2:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Fumes permeated the heavy air. Here and there a Senator slumped in his chair, half asphyxiated to the deadly fumes. The gas became stronger, until finally four of the lawmakers became unconscious.

A hurried conference was held to turn over

FOUR SENATORS OVERCOME WHEN R. I. SENATE IS GASSSED

CHAMBER CHOKED WITH FUMES OF DEADLY CHLORINE FORMER MRS. STEARNS SHUNS CAMERA

AND BOTH SIDES AGREE TO HOUR'S RECESS

When the warning parties and it was agreed to recess for an hour until the air could be cleared.

Beneath a radiator not four feet from the center, occupied by Lieutenant Governor Felix A. Toupin, Senate President a mass of papers soaked in what is believed to be hydrochloric acid, was found by Governor William L. Flynn, President Toupin and a janitor.

ORDERS ARRESTS

Governor Flynn had ordered the Senate chamber first as the fumes began to choke their presence in it. He took charge of the sealed building and moved them out to a chamber for analysis.

Following the recess, when all but one of the Republican members still remained out of the chamber, Governor Flynn swore in top spectators as special deputies and ordered janitors for the arrest of the absent senators.

In charge of Deputy Sheriff Eyer, the new special deputies headed for the committee room, where the senators were conferring. As they reached the room, High Sheriff Adams ordered the janitors from the room and cautioned the door guards in the face of the deputies and Lieutenant Governor Toupin.

"Gas was pumped in an attempt to suffocate the Legislature," Governor declared the Governor, intimating that the suffocated tactics were the work of Republicans. "I am going to see the bottom of this and find out who did it."

Allegation that Lieutenant Governor was not aggressive, the fumes permeated him and he was compelled to do the same thing at his own window to recover.

He was escorted from the Senate chamber by Representative Isabel A. O'Sullivan, only woman in the Rhode Island Legislature. Despite the effect on him by the gas, the lieutenant governor declared that the gas was a "false" attack staged by the Republicans as an excuse for a recess.

At 10:40 Lieutenant Governor Toupin returned to the chamber.

He received in physicians' certificates from Dr. Herbert T. Harris, stating that the physician had examined the members and found them physically unable to return to the session.

SUSPECTS CERTIFICATE

The Lieutenant Governor ridiculed the certificate, however, and declared the missing Republicans must return. He pointed out that he had seen the members most subjected to the deadly chlorine fumes and had returned.

The Senate president hinted that the physician's certificate was not in evidence in physicians' certificates from Dr. Herbert T. Harris, stating that the physician had examined the members and found them physically unable to return to the session.

pany stated after the accident that the crash was caused by the failure of Motorman James Cunningham to stop at the turnout beyond Clark's.

Motorman Cunningham drove his car along at high speed past the turnout in an attempt to reach Clark's coupe through broken glass.

He was taken out of the car. There is but one rail and the crash was inevitable when the trolley rounded a sharp curve near Clark's.

Neither motorman was able to observe the approach of the auto until they reached the curve.

Cause of Filibuster in Rhode Island Senate

The Rhode Island Senate is deadlocked in a record-breaking filibuster because:

For years, under the present law, the Senate has been controlled by twenty small towns with a population less than one-eighth of the State population.

The Democrats seek a Constitutional Convention referendum, whose purpose will be to select Senators according to population and to abolish the landholders' ballot clause.

The Democrats seek a forty-eight-hour-law for industry.

But the Republican majority has blocked action on these measures.

In retaliation the Democrats, with Lieutenant Governor Toupin, a Democrat in the chair, have blocked the Republican State appropriations bill and State institutions are struggling along on borrowed money.

While the Democratic Senate president is in the chair he can refuse to recognize any but a Democrat on the floor. This is what is being done. The Democrats hope their physical stamina will hold out longer than that of the Republicans. If enough Republicans are absent from the Senate, the Democrats will have a majority and will be able to pass their bills.

The filibuster was started by the Democrats January 1, 1924.

The present session has lasted since 2:05 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, during which time the Lieutenant Governor, the Secretary of State, who is the recording clerk and the reading clerk of the Senate, have not left their places.

PAID COAKLEY AUTOPSY HELD ON BODY OF SLAIN BABY

$5,000 FEE IN STEARNS CASE

Ex-Wife of Captain Gave Him Greater Part of $8,700 Settlement Money

A fee of $5,000 was received by Daniel H. Coakley from Mrs. Helen W. Sewall, former wife of Captain Charles E. Stearns. It was brought out today at the Coakley-Coverly conspiracy trial in East Cambridge Superior Court.

Mrs. Sewall, now married to a Brooklyn, N. Y., man, identified a receipt she gave Coakley for money above his fee. The money—$15,000—was paid to Coakley by Captain Stearns as a settlement to his wife, who was granted a divorce from him. Coakley was her lawyer.

Six months after she was divorced, Mrs. Sewall testified today, she married Sewall. He had sworn to her and had taken her in theatre before her divorce, she admitted.

Mrs. Sewall also identified several letters dealing with negotiations about her divorce, including one written by her father, the late Frank Weaver.

One of these dealt with the settlement of alimony and was written by Stearns' counsel, Emory H. Fuller.

Mrs. Sewall testified that the amount for divorce was changed at the suggestion of John H. Stearns.

AMHERST STUDENT HELD IN RUM RAID

Amherst, June 19.—Lester A. Wadell, a Junior at Amherst College, was in District Court in Northampton today, as the result of a seizure of liquor made by the Amherst police. Wadell pleaded guilty to maintaining a liquor nuisance. His case was continued to July 3. Six other men were arrested in other raids.

Officer M. E. Graves testified that more than four quarts of "white" liquor were found in Wadell's room at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house.

Reports of fees paid to legislative committee by business firms and lawyers, under the Lobby Act, received today by the Secretary of State were $1,000 by the State organization of masonry mechanics; to Claude L. Allen, $100, by the Sawyer-Crystal Blue Company; to Samuel W. Mendum of Weymouth, $100, by the Long's Day League, and to Hutchins & Wheeler, $400, by the Boston Clearing House Committee.

Minneapolis, N. Y., June 19.—Sentence of thirty years each on charges of burglary and grand larceny were given today to William T. Irwin and Marcus Curtis.

The testimony of Irwin's sister, Katherine, who said the two men compelled her to sit up all night while they slept so she could awaken them in the early morning, when they would leave on burglary expeditions, formed the prosecution's chief evidence.

Did he visit your home? A—Yes, to interview me.

How long did the interview at the Biltmore last? A—More than an hour.

Mrs. Sewall testified she had been married nineteen years to Captain Stearns. She said she long had been suspicious of Captain Stearns' conduct.

About how she came into possession of his private papers, she said he kept some in his desk. When she found the first letter she looked for others. She felt that she was entitled to them, she added.

He said she also found some of them in his pocket. She did not find him about them, nor did she communicate with Jennie Penn of Waltham or the author of the "Catherine" letters.

How long after your divorce did you marry Mr. Sewall? A—After the divorce became absolute.

How long did it take to get the divorce? A—About six months.

Is this the Mrs. Brown whom you mean calling Mrs. Brown from the witness box? A—Yes.

You knew your attorney was going to have Captain Stearns' custody? Did you tell Mrs. Brown that? A—Possibly; I don't remember all I told her.

ELOPED GIRL WHO ELOPED 21 YEARS AGO RETURNS RICH WOMAN

ELOPED BACK BY LOVE OF MOTHER

Fled Home When Marriage Was Opposed; Husband Became Oil Magnate in West

Salem, June 19.—This is the story of the return of the modern prodigal daughter. She has just returned to the home of her girlhood, which she left nearly a quarter-century ago, to wed the man of her heart.

Twenty-one years ago Elizabeth O'Shea, daughter of Mrs. Mary J. O'Shea of No. 5 Bawling street, Salem, and the sister of William A. O'Shea, present Mayor of Peabody and one of the boldest of the town, fell in love with John Stiles.

When the two pledged their truth parental disapproval blocked their wedding plans. So one night the pair disappeared and nothing was ever heard of them again.

Four days ago the daughter, now grown into womanhood, arrived in Boston, on a visit from the West. She was undecided as to whether she should call again at the home she had left and become reconciled to her parents and family.

But love for the scene of her girlhood and of her mother won out and she made her way to the door of her former home.

HUSBAND IS WEALTHY.

When the mother, in response to the knock, opened the door she at first failed to recognize the middle-aged, well-dressed woman who stood before her.

"Don't you recognize me, mother?" finally asked the caller. "I am your daughter, your Elizabeth, who left you one night twenty-one years ago."

But try as she could the mother could not recognize in the visitor her long-absent daughter. Then the latter gave sufficient proof of her identity by relating incidents which the mother quickly recalled. Thereupon the two sprang into each other's arms.

When Mayor O'Shea returned that night and the mother presented her long-lost daughter, he also failed at first to recognize the sister he had of seen in more than twenty years. Mrs. Stiles said that after eloping he and her husband had gone to Los Angeles. There Stiles had set up in the oil business and they still reside in California. They still reside in California, the husband is rated as a wealthy man. They have a fourteen-ear-old daughter.

DA MAY SAILS; SO DOES THE COLONEL

New York, June 19.—The Philadelphia social register has an announcement that Col. Wilson Potter, Philadelphia society man, is married to Miss Ada Mae Weekes. However, Ada Mae, the talented but vivacious star of "Lollipops," said: "No, no, not yet, but when I do marry, I will marry him."

Ada Mae was discovered on the Astorians just before the liner sailed. The passenger list contains the entry: "Colonel and Mrs. Wilson Potter." Friends believe Ada and Colonel are off on their honeymoon. They also explained that Henry W. Savage doesn't cherish the marriage of his young actress, because such announcements detract from professional popularity.

COOLIDGE MISSES 'HONORS AT BOWDOIN'

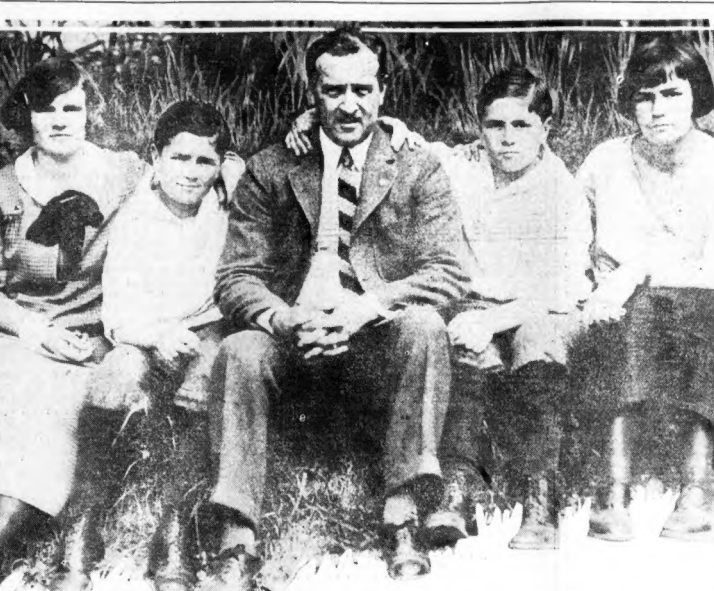

Brunswick, Me., June 19.—President Kenneth C. Mill of Bowdoin College at the 19th commencement today disclosed the fact that the college had been asked to attend. Such an invitation ordinarily is in pursuance of plans to confer an honorary degree. The honorary degree included: Doctor of Science Oliver P. Watts, Wisconsin 85.

Friends of Arts Alphonse Sanford of Boston; Thomas H. Evers, secretary of the board of overseers and Arthur P. Fairfield, captain U. S. N. The governing board granted a leave of absence to President Stiles for the first semester of next year to enable him to visit France as elected Professor W. A. Moody as acting president.

CUSTOMS MEN SEIZE PISTOLS AFTER CHASE

New York, June 19.—Twenty-two automatic pistols, a supply of ammunition and twelve pairs of handcuffs were seized today in New York City on a fast motor boat which Customs agents were searching on Saturday afternoon. Sixteen men were aboard the boat which was overtaken after more than fifty shots had been fired and after a railroad fireman had been lowered, blocking the escape of the boat. Agents found no liquor aboard the boat, and the sixteen men were not arrested.

ARNOLD LAWSON AND HIS CHILDREN AT HOME

LAWSON BARS HARD LIQUOR IN DRINKING

Once upon a time Arnold Lawson, as recalled by himself, took a drink whenever he felt like it. Now he has only a little wine at home. And somebody gave him that. The son of Thomas W. Lawson, financier, author, farmer, has had seven or eight or possibly ten drinks thus far this year. Ale, rum, beer, hooch, whiskey or even synthetic gin, are not on the list in his humble Milton home. He so declared before Judge Posen in Suffolk Superior Court in reply to questions by his counsel Attorney John P. Feeney, in his fight against his former wife's proceedings to obtain custody of their four children.

Judge Posen announced at the conclusion of the two-day trial that he would take the case under further consideration, but would make a "speedy" finding in view of the evidence brought out. The four children, Vera, seven, Jean, six, Thomas W. 2nd, and Arnold, five, and their mother, Mrs. Lucie Mitchell Blake, wife of Henry Spring Blake, retired banker, watched them witness the trial.

BURN HALL, FIRE ON GUARDS, IN MINERS' FIGHT

Morgantown, W. Va., June 19.—One man was wounded, the union hall was destroyed by fire, and a number of houses occupied by miners were fired upon during a battle early today between mine guards and a group of union miners at Brady near here, Sheriff W. M. Vest reported on his return from the scene. The battle, which began at midnight, ended shortly after dawn. Four men were arrested and brought to the county jail here. They said they were union miners formerly employed by the Brady Warner Coal Corporation, owners of the mine, which resumed operations recently with non-union labor, after the union men refused to return to work under the 1917 wage.

Special mine guards, employed to patrol the Brady property, defended the mine against the attack of the union men, who had made a will with a provision that the children would come into possession of his property after their mother's death. The four prisoners, A. Huber, Agnes Cooley, John Hutchinson and Ray Cottrell, were questioned by R. P. Posen, prosecuting attorney, here, suffering from shotgun wounds in the back and legs, was found in the miners' hall. He will recover.

GIRL WHO SUES MILLIONAIRE AN ELOPER

Muriel Buell, Who Asks $500,000, Admits She Has Had Hectic Career

New York, June 19.—Details of a whirlwind marital experience of Miss Muriel Buell, twenty-eight-year-old beauty, came to light in Manhattan with her suit against Jefferson Livingston, millionaire bachelor, sixty, for $1,750 per month which she claims he promised her as quasi-alimony to stop a threatened breach of promise suit.

If she gets all she expects from Livingston she will have $500,000. As Miss Buell admitted, the experience was "a hectic one."

She is the daughter of Dr. William E. Buell, chief physician at the Union Iron Works Hospital in San Francisco, and in 1914 was attending an exclusive finishing school in that city.

At a function aboard the ship, Denver one evening she chanced to meet young William J. Caples, son of a former Mayor of St. Paul, and himself the "survivor" of a hectic marital experience.

Two weeks later society of San Francisco, in which Miss Buell was very popular, received the shocking knowledge that she had eloped with young Caples overnight to Los Angeles.

APPEAR WAS HECTIC.

The doctor pursued the elopement in the next train, but all in vain. They shook their marriage certificate in

Traffic Halted While Copenhagen Cheers Mary and Doug

Copenhagen, June 19.—Thronged Fairbanks and Mary Pickford were given a grand reception cheering throngs when they arrived here today.

The crowd were of such emotion that tramway service was disrupted and many women fainted. Their reception in Spain was taken over compared with the one Copenhagen has given us," was Doug's remark after he and Mary had arrived safely in their hotel. They later attended a reception given by John D. Prince, American minister.

His face, then gleamed forgiveness. This finally was granted. Caples filed a cross-bill, in which he accused his wife of being too friendly with Art Smith, a show aviator, but she was granted a decree on charges of cruelty and resumed her maiden name. Miss Buell then left the court, and has been little heard of until her action against Livingston.

In commenting on the week-end romance, she said: "While time away was indeed a hectic one, still, it is nothing of which to be ashamed. I was with my friends at the time and did not want to show my mind as father said. I dare say I am not the only girl who has undergone a similar experience."

PURSUIT ALL IN VAIN.

BEST ROADS TO HARVARD-YALE RACE BY AUTO

State Department Advises Eastern Massachusetts Fans to Take Providence Turnpike

Good roads face the fans motoring to the Harvard-Yale boat race classes at New London.

The State Department of Public Works advises those bring in Eastern Massachusetts to take the Providence turnpike and the route and through Westerly to Narragansett Pier. It warns motorists that the War Department has authorized the War Department to close the Thames River bridge at New London thirty minutes before the event and to keep it closed until one hour after the race is over.

On the Providence turnpike the route is a detour of two miles at North Attleboro and Pawtucket, but the department advises that the detour is in good shape and will cause little if any delay.

Good Island operators are being warned not to take route No. 1 marked on the telegraph poles, because of its roughness. The best road is through Westerly.

The Putnam pike, a section at the Connecticut turnpike, is closed and open and other action at Chesterfield is completed in time and road equipment removed.

Route No. 1, Rhode Island, will be open by way of Pawtucket. This route, connecting by way of Plainville, Pawtucket, and Westerly, should turn off one mile beyond North Attleboro, R. I., and proceed in a northwesterly direction toward Westerly.

Route No. 1, A. Rhode Island, goes through Westerly and should be avoided, as its condition is wretched.

PERFUME LOOT FOUND IN ROOM OF YOUTH

Women's Apparel Also Stolen Through Charge Accounts, It Is Alleged

How that eighteen-year-old George Nickerson is under arrest and is alleged to have confessed, there is nothing left for police to do but wonder what he had intended to do with the perfume, cosmetics and feminine apparel that were found in his room.

Nickerson is charged with having stolen the said supplies valued at $500—from four department stores in the city by means of false charge accounts.

RAIDED MAIL.

According to his own story, he mailed the mail of several maiden women, and, armed with bills and statements from the department stores, had proceeded to run up large accounts at the stores, using the bills for identification.

It was the keen sleuthing sense of Ethel Lagerstrom, store detective, that led to Nickerson's capture. She was who, noticing that he purchased perfumes at the store, followed him to his room at a South End lodging house.

Then, calling Ida Hall, another store detective and Inspector Patton of headquarters in her aid, the trio raided the young man's room. As they entered the room, the policeman and the inspector were about to turn back, thinking that they had strayed into some woman's boudoir. A second glance, however, revealed young Nickerson in the midst of the silk pajamas, lingerie, slippers, flimsy bath robes, perfume, rouge, lip sticks, eyebrow pencils and other, which littered the chamber.

GOODS RECOVERED.

An inventory of the goods found in the room showed that it checked up pretty closely with the goods that had been purchased from the four department stores on the false charge accounts.

At police headquarters, young Nickerson broke down and confessed the thefts. It is said.

Federal authorities were today to begin an investigation of the boy's alleged activities in tampering with the mails.

Young Nickerson gave his residence as No. 41 Farmington street, Mattapan. He had just recently engaged the room in the South End lodging house.

BABE AKEN CASE'S NEAR SOLUTION

Police Confident New Tip Will Result in Clearing Up Baffling Mystery

Worcester, R. I., June 19.—A baffling but generally unimportant solution of the mysterious disappearance of three-year-old Viola Aken of North Smithfield, is believed to be only a matter of hours away, as a result of police work on theories developed within the past forty-eight hours.

Although the mother of the little girl and her sister, James Graham, are still held in exceptionally high regard, on technical charges, the spreading of the police net of suspicion to others will, it is expected, count heavily in the final solution. The baby, it is believed, is either dead and buried within a few yards of the farmhouse where she lived, or she is alive and many miles away, having been stolen for a motive yet unknown.

BOY QUESTIONED.

Oranville, worn by one of the boys at the farm were taken for examination by the police. A stain on the garment bore some resemblance to the marks of human fingers but further investigation is required to determine whether or not it is blood. The boy was given a thorough grilling by the police. He was both defiant and subservient, but persistently declared that he did not know where the baby was and that the police were not prepared to say they suspected him.

The search for the guilty person or persons has narrowed down so rapidly that what a day ago appeared to be an unsolvable mystery, now appears to be due for a quick and decisive conclusion.

COURT REKICKS MOTHER.

Mrs. Viola Aken, the baby's mother, was held in $2,500 bail for a continued hearing on June 27, by Judge Myette in the District Court here and was severely rebuked by the court for failing to show any remorse.

"If this woman had a heart in her bosom, she would show some emotion at the disappearance of her child," Judge Myette said. His reduced bail of $2,500, however, from $10,000 to $2,500.

The mother, however, although proud in court, is said to have broken down and wept bitterly while being questioned about her baby before and after she was arraigned.

WIFE, RIVAL, ARE DYING; HURT WHILE CHASED

Lynn Wife and Other Man
Hurled From Motorcycle
Fleeing Auto

When a Lynn husband found his wife riding alone, Lynn's street and struck a stone wall and the man and woman are dying at the Lynn Hospital.

The motorcycle was Roger Durkin, twenty-nine years old, of No. 60 Vermont street, Needham, and the woman riding with him was Mrs. Annie M. Hunt, twenty-three, of No. 123 Broad street, Lynn.

Durkin suffered a severed artery of the groin and internal injuries. The woman's skull is fractured, her nose was torn from her face and many of her ribs were broken and she was injured internally. Physicians at Lynn Hospital say the pair cannot live.

COUPLE WERE SEPARATED.
Mrs. Hunt's husband is Wendell Hunt, of No. 192 Boston street, Lynn. He and his wife separated last April and the wife some time later had her husband arrested for non-support. The case was scheduled to come up in court on June 20 and the husband, it is said, was inventing stories that his wife was getting about with other men that he might give the evidence in his own defense.

The husband was driving his light automobile along Lynnfield street around midnight, when he saw his wife and Durkin approaching. His wife was riding in a side car of the cycle.

DENIES CROWDING.
Hunt, according to his story told the police, called for Durkin to stop his motorcycle. Instead Durkin opened the throttle wide and the machine leaped ahead.

The motorcycle ran about the street only a short distance when it swerved to one side, leaped over the pavement and crashed into a stone wall. The two occupants were thrown into a yard on the opposite side of the wall.

WITNESS SAYS MEANS KEPT $5000 BRIBE

Declares Ex-Agent Took Cash
but Failed to Go Through on a Boose Deal

New York, June 18.—Jacob Stein, former Brooklyn lawyer, testified today at the trial of Gaston B. Means, day at the trial of Gaston B. Means, former Department of Justice agent, on a charge of violating the prohibition law, that $5,000 which had been paid on account in a whiskey deal in 1921 had been kept by Means, but that no whiskey had been delivered.

Stein said he took Harry Steinfield of this city to see Means and arrange for a whiskey withdrawal from a New York warehouse. Steinfield paid Means $5,000 on account, Stein said, but the whiskey was never moved and Steinfield did not get his money back.

Counsel for Means objected to Stein's testimony and moved for a mistrial on the ground that the witness was biased, but Judge Wickersham denied the motion.

Stein was testified that he took Charles W. Johnson, former director of Unemployment, Pa., to Means for his aid in settling fifty barrels of whiskey from a distillery in Pennsylvania. Pa. The Johnsons had been employed him to bring to Means other persons who had "the cash, Stein alleged."

SAVED FROM CANAL

Photo-diagram shows how Manuel Pacheco aged nine, of No. 89 Sixth street, Cambridge, was rescued by Joseph Barry, of No. 210 Broadway, Cambridge, after he had plunged 50 feet from a derrick pole into Broad Canal. For several minutes before falling the boy hung in mid-air, the seat of his trousers caught on a derrick hook. Inset is young Pacheco.

and went to the aid of his wife and her companion both were unconscious. They were rushed to the hospital while police questioned Hunt. According to his story he made no effort to crowd the motorcycle from the road and had nothing to do with the accident.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pain. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they couldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. SAMUEL MURRAY, 919 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.

SMITH CLAMPS CLAIMS OVER 400 DELEGATES

JOCKEYING BEGINS TO GET THE 332 OTHERS NEEDED M'ADOO AND HIS SMILE ARRIVE FOR BATTLE

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

New York, June 19 (U.S.A.).—The preliminary skirmish and feinting that always precedes a great political convention gave way today to the deadly serious business of a give-and-take fight for delegates as the principal figures of the Democratic party poured into New York for next week's historic battle in the Garden.

Argument over the two-thirds rule, the unit rule, and kindred matters was relegated to second place while the crowded hotel lobby. The two leading contenders—William G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith—were in personal charge of their respective camps and directing the course of events.

As a result of missionary work already accomplished, the Smith forces raised their estimate today of the strength the Governor will wield with in the first half-dozen ballots. They now figure in the Smith column will be in the Smith column by the fifth ballot. Where to get the 23 more necessary to make two-thirds is a tough problem.

MCADOO'S PROBLEM

This Smith problem, however, is but little harder than that confronting the McAdoo managers. Assured of approximately 420 votes in the early ballots, with possible accessions up to 460 on succeeding ballots, the anti-McAdoo forces are inclined to ask where McAdoo is going from there. They answer their own question by asserting: "Nowhere."

"Mr. McAdoo will be nominated by the tenth ballot, if not before," asserted Colonel Thomas H. Love of Texas, one of the McAdoo managers. He did not explain, however, where the delegates were to be found.

"There will be no nominee on the tenth ballot and probably for a good while thereafter," said George E. Brennan, the Illinois delegate, in a certain grim smile that betokened confidence in his own arithmetic.

Virtually all of the various leaders outside the McAdoo tent were inclined to agree with the Chicago leader. They frankly took to be 41 ballots at San Francisco and the 44th at Baltimore outstripped in the Garden next week.

Brennan furthermore allowed it would be "a long convention," and in this, too, he found himself in agreement with most of those not attached to the McAdoo standard.

HOPE FOR UNDERWOOD

Meanwhile the Underwood managers are laying back and saying little except that after McAdoo and Smith have finished their gory work of "murdering" each other, the convention will have to go some place, and McAdoo and Smith counts are casting covetous eyes.

But the hopes expressed by the Underwood contingent were echoed by the supporters of every other dark horse in the Democratic stable—John W. Davis of West Virginia, Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, David P. Houston of Texas and several others.

Davis, Ralston, Robinson and Houston appeared today to constitute the big four among the second choice—preference being in the order named. Cautious inquiries among the leaders and delegates disclosed a potential strength for the former anti-McAdoo forces. It was a revelation to both the Smith and McAdoo managers.

Davis will enter the balloting with but a basic strength of West Virginia sixteen votes. But he has done so in a particularly strategic position, too, in that he is identified with one of the warring factions in his party.

SECOND PLACE

Ralston occupies a position akin to Davis from the standpoint of availability. His advanced age is more than offset by his strongly rural background, his record, and more than all else he has the unswerving and aggressive backing of the astute Houston leader, Tom Taggart. Predictions already are heard that if Ralston does not head the ticket he will be found in second place. Senator Robinson, like Davis, will enter the balloting with the basic strength of his own State. Robinson's friends, too, are busy saying that delegates are informed of an observation made by George Harvey some time ago, to the effect that "if the Democrats have any sense they will nominate Joe Robinson."

Houston has little basic strength. His native State of Texas is McAdoo's; his adopted State of New York is grain-hoarding for Smith, and his considerable Houston talk is heard wherever delegates and leaders gather.

To the list of Democratic promises already here was added today William Jennings Bryan. He admitted he did not know who would be nominated.

"But I know who won't be," he said. "Al Smith will not be." Bryan is a delegate from Florida, instructed for McAdoo.

CUMMINS RECALLED.
U. S. TAKES CHARGE
Mexico City, June 19 (Universal Cable)—H. A. C. Cummins, British agent abroad whom a dispute has been raging for several days between the two governments, has been recalled. He will leave at once. The United States Embassy will take charge of the archives and will probably be asked to look after British interests.

It is believed the incident will be closed when Cummins leaves. It is understood Mexico only declined to accept the compromise suggested by President Macdonald in order to gain point to the fight for recognition, and it is now believed the settlement of the dispute may lead to recognition by Britain.

The intruder gave his name as Police Division of No. 297 Elm street, Cambridge. A companion who had been in the building with him before the fire was discovered, escaped.

PARTY TICKET VGGARDELY TO S. NOTE

Conservatives Plead With the Reds to Wait Until July 4 for La Follette's Stand

By KENNETH CLARK

Convention Hall, St. Paul, June 19. (U.S.A.)—The Farmer-Labor Convention here, its machinery jammed by a fresh denunciation from Senator La Follette, today prepared to adjourn without naming a third party ticket content, apparently, with having formed a National Third Party, and adopted a platform straining Communist doctrines for control of the government.

This platform, considered one of the major triumphs of the Reds who attended the convention, today looked as the last critical issue between the radicals and the more conservative delegates.

The Farmer-Laborite delegates asserted they would make every effort today to bring about an adjournment by tonight. Radicals who have had little trouble in exerting their wishes were opposed to this, since it was their intention to bring out candidates left for the presidential and vice presidency but their spokesmen have announced they are willing to concede a delay to a more conservative element.

PLED FOR PRICE REIN.

The farm elements wanted nothing done that would embarrass the candidacy of La Follette which they are predicting he will announce tomorrow. The Progressive party in Cleveland, July 4.

La Follette again notified the convention that he would under no consideration stand for their endorsement. They pleaded with the Communists not to press for the election of an individual ticket, but La Follette has a free rein.

The Communists, following La Follette's second denunciation, were prepared to put forward Donald McDonald, Illinois labor leader, as their presidential candidate, but it had been virtually decided today to even the development of the Progressive convention.

The plan forward a man of an inflexibly radical tendencies for President, they plan to give him their endorsement. If not, there is still time to put McDonald or some other candidate in the field.

All this has been tentatively agreed upon, and the Communists are predicting the election of a ticket in prospect for today.

KLAN IGNORED.

Chief packs in this act of nationalization of industry, repeal of the Federal Reserve and National Banking acts, coalition of the right of courts to issue injunctions against strikes, the eight-hour day and prohibition of child labor, minimum wage law, social insurance and old-age pensions, national minority laws, recognition of Soviet Russia, elimination of land-lords, control of transportation and marketing institutions, compensation for unemployed at trade union, and full political and economic equality for negroes.

Klan and prohibition issues brought a stiff battle in the committee sessions, but no mention of either was maintained in the platform as reported.

GALLIVAN FILES CONGRESS PAPERS

Congressman James A. Gallivan of Boston by filing his papers with the Secretary of State for the Democratic nomination, today is the first candidate in the field for the coming Congressional fight. After filing his papers, Gallivan he started for convention headquarters at New York.

Before leaving, Congressman Gallivan made a statement which placed him firmly in the Smith following. "The best choice the Democratic convention could make would be Al Smith," Gallivan said.

MAP TO REPLY VGGARDELY TO S. NOTE

Latter Denies Treaty Violation; Holds Right to Control Immigration

Washington, June 19 (Universal).—The reply of the United States to Japan's "voluntarist" protest against the exclusion feature of the recent proposed immigration bill was made public at the State Department.

The document, as drafted by Secretary of State Hughes, is of considerable length, but is neither strenuous in upholding the position of this government nor conciliatory with regard to the action of Congress in passing the bill in opposition to the wishes of the administration.

REBINDER EXERCISED

The reply apparently was written with a view to closing the incident, at least as far as diplomatic correspondence is concerned, but it is believed in diplomatic circles here that a vigorous response will be forthcoming shortly from Viscount Kato, the new Japanese premier.

As predicted two weeks ago, the principal points in the note are as follows:

1. That this government, holding the question to be purely a domestic matter, has always insisted on the full right to exercise in its discretion control over immigration.

2. That the United States has not been guilty of a treaty violation, inasmuch as Japan was aware that the government reserved the right to regulate immigration at the time it signed the treaty of 1911.

3. That the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" was not violated because Japan understood when the arrangement was entered into that this government reserved the right to enact legislation controlling immigration at any time.

4. That Japan shall be contented released from the "gentlemen's agreement" by the immigration bill now in effect.

CITIES JAP ACTION.

Speaking of the inherent sovereign right of a government to control immigration, the note declared that it was "an authority which it is believed the Japanese government has not failed to exercise in its own discretion with respect to the admission of aliens and the conditions and location of their settlement within its borders."

Replying to the Japanese request that the Washington administration take action to change the situation, the note stated that the legislative action which has been taken is mandatory upon the executive branch of the government and clearly indicated there is nothing to be done.

The note was handed to Ambassador Hanthart by Sec. Hughes for simultaneous publication in the United States and Japan on Thursday. The Japanese protest, which called forth the reply was approved by Foreign Minister Matsui.

Let the States Now Race to Ratify Child Labor Law

CONGRESS has adopted the resolution which refers the Child Labor amendment to the States, and now thirty-six of them must ratify it.

Ratification does not end the Child Labor evil; it merely empowers Congress to pass a law to do it, a law which the Supreme Court must let alone!

Congress will pass the law as soon as the States give it the power. The States should break all time records in ratifying this amendment, for child exploiters will be more severe than ever now that we are going to cut their claws!

Cradle robbers and grave robbers are twin morons, but as between the two, the grave robber is less guilty; stolen childhood never can be regained, and then the grave robber's victims do not suffer!

The States should hurry to set these children free!

In every State all agencies for human good should join hands for such State's ratification.

Churches should proclaim it from every pulpit; they might even properly call their foreign missionaries home until we have handled our own heathen. These foreign missionaries might tell the retail cannibals of Africa they were coming home to put wholesale cannibals out of business in the United States!

Fraternal organizations should get into the movement; all civic organizations, all clubs of quasi-public nature, all women's organizations, all welfare movements.

Chauffeurs should throw their mighty moral weight behind the cause; their speakers should be told to recommend ratification to the millions attending this outdoor university, whose tents cover America! Newspapers and magazines—all that are free—should dedicate themselves to this high cause.

Every Hearst publication in the United States is enlisted for the war; they have all fought this curse from the start and they will keep on fighting until the white flag of surrender floats over every industry which classes childhood as mere raw material!

The radio—that part of it which is free—should add its boundless voice to this appeal.

Last, but by no means least, the motion picture business should contribute its incalculable influence. Pictures which portray the everyday hideousness of this crime would make audiences gasp with astonishment, then hiss with indignation and instruct their legislative candidates to ratify this amendment this year!

An energy equal to the merit of the cause will ratify this year, but it is a Presidential year, and without such energy this cause may be eclipsed by the less important partisan sham battle.

States far distant from this economic sin may be indifferent; there the child exploiter might defeat ratification, but a grand charge from Maine to California will sweep everything before it!

LET US RATIFY NOW. THIS WILL NOT ONLY SET MORE THAN ONE MILLION AMERICAN CHILDREN FREE; IT WILL ALSO CAUSE THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES TO LOOK UPON US WITH MORE FAVOR HEREAFTER.

THE NEXT TIME HUMAN PROGRESS EXTENDS THIS HIGH TRIBUNAL, SHE WILL BE RECEIVED WITH DISTINGUISHED CONSIDERATION—NOT BEATEN WITH THE BONES OF DEAD DECISIONS AND DRIVEN OFF AS AN ENEMY OF THE CONSTITUTION!

Rhode Island Has First Opportunity

THE Legislature of Rhode Island is now in session. It has the first opportunity to ratify the Child Labor amendment to the Constitution and abolish the disgrace of the employment of little children in its industries.

The high percentage of children employed in Rhode Island was thus described by Senator McCormick of Illinois in the Senate debate on the Child Labor amendment:

"If I remember rightly, the Secretary of Labor, or head of the Children's Bureau, testified in the hearings that the percentage of children employed in gainful occupations on the Pacific Coast was about 4 per cent., whereas in another great section of the country it ran from 15 to 25 per cent., ESPECIALLY IN RHODE ISLAND, which, the same tables show, stands out as a twelve times employer of children between ten and fifteen years of age in industry."

Weak Argument Against the Amendment

THE attempt to have the individual State Legislatures ratify the amendment to the Constitution prohibiting child labor will be bitterly fought.

Here is an example of the argument in Congress by an opponent of the proposed amendment giving Congress "POWER" to limit, regulate and prohibit the labor of persons under eighteen years of age." He said:

"It takes from the several States the right to control the hours and conditions of labor of every citizen in the United States under eighteen years of age.

"It deprives all parents of the United States of the right to control and regulate the conduct of their children in the matters of industry and labor.

"It concentrates all of these powers in the Congress of the United States.

"It is the greatest attempt toward centralization ever attempted.

"It is the most undemocratic proposal yet advanced.

"It is a march from liberty toward despotism.

"It is not progression; it is retrogression.

"It assassinates democracy and upon its grave establishes a hybrid monstrosity embracing all of the vices and possessing none of the virtues of State socialism and communism.

"It is as idiotic as it is destructive, and as wicked as it is imbecile."

Such is the best argument that a member of Congress can bring against a law designed to take out of factories, mines and quarries more than a million children between ten and fifteen years of age, now employed there.

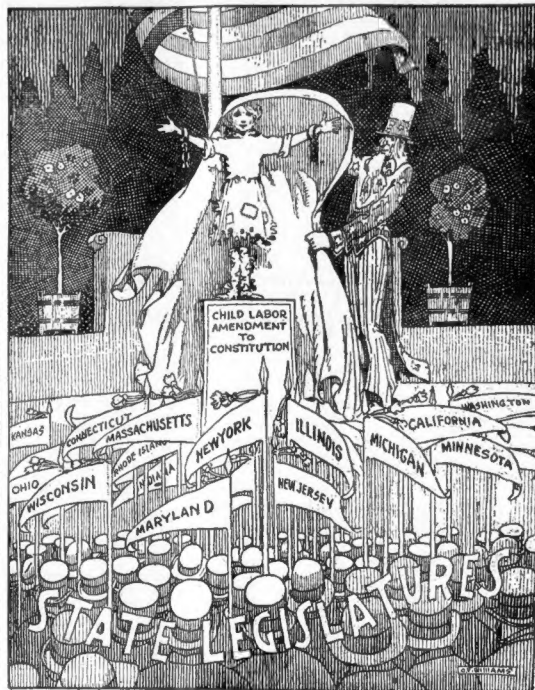

THE HELPING HAND

Stork on His Way
Editor Helping Hand:
I have six children and next month expect the seventh and have no clothes for it. My oldest boy is fourteen, and he was to graduate in June, but now he cannot, as I cannot afford to get him ready. Last week he had to be dropped out of work from heart trouble. Anything to help me will be appreciated. My children are all boys fourteen, twelve, eight and four girls six and two.

HER SHACKLES FALL

More Truth Than Poetry

Copyright, 1914, by E. B. Kiser.
By E. B. KISER.
CHILDREN, robbed of childhood's airy graces,
Children who have weary, careworn faces,
Toll where all the days are drab and long;
Children who are bent and pale and slender;
Driven to the services they tender,
Learn too soon to think that all is wrong.

THEY have little time for healthful playing,
If they pray there must be in their praying
Little hope that God will lend to hear;
Robbed of faith and happiness and beauty,
They perceive no loveliness in duty,
But approach their tasks with hate or fear.

BY the tens of thousands they are serving
Where the whirl of shuttles is unceasing,
Where the air is thick with choking dust,
But the judges, who are high and mighty,
Warn us to refrain from being flighty—
"Let the children labor where they must."

MEAN demand large profits as their payment,
Ladies must have jewels and fine raiment,
Misses must still be worked and mills be run,
So the tolling children's hopes are blunted,
So they droop and sicken and are stunted;
Justice sits aloof, and nothing's done!

CHRISTIANS, what about the Master's teaching?
Can't you hear Him patiently beseeching?
Shall there be no answer to His plea?
Must the children toll away forever?
Christian men and women, shall we never
Be the Christians we profess to be?

State Rights Not Infringed

By Senator Joseph T. Robinson

Speech in the Senate, June 2, 1924.

SENATORS who oppose the submission of this amendment do so chiefly upon the ground that it contemplates turning over to the Federal Government authority now vested in the State Governments and that to submit such an amendment for ratification constitutes in some quarters an effort to undermine the fundamental principles upon which our Government rests.

The opponents to this amendment have created what I must designate as a straw man, and they have attacked their own creature with great vigor and power. They say that you please and do what you please, there is a movement deep seated and widespread, in favor of protecting the childhood and the youth of America against the evil results of excessive labor. There is a demand, not from Bolsheviks, Socialists or Anarchists, but from the men and women who constitute the patriotic citizenship of this nation, for uniform legislation on the subject of child labor, and you cannot scare me from voting for this amendment by conjuring up in the fancy possible evils which, by a stretch of the imagination, might be calculated to offset the advantages of legislation.

I am in favor of submitting this amendment to the States for their ratification, and I have not the slightest fear that any harm will come to any institution worth preserving if the States ratify it.

Set the Children Free

By Senator Medill McCormick

State to State. It might strike the white slave traffic and go so far as to prevent a lecherous and mercenary woman from traveling in her own profit at the expense of the man to whom she sold her favors.

That it would not protect the children of the country.

When Congress passed the Child Labor Act of 1916, since declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, America felt the world in the protection of child labor. To-day all Western Europe, with negligible exceptions, has adopted standards equal to and surpassing those which we then set up.

In God's name, let not America be behind the other civilized States in safeguarding the welfare and the future of its citizens to be, and assuring them the health and learning which will enable them to return to do their duty in safeguarding the Republic.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON THE AVERAGE MAN

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE average man is afraid to do too much. That is the reason he is average. If he wanted to do more than he was paid for he would be an exceptional man.

It is the exceptional man who is in demand. It is a rule of human conduct, as well as a test of entry into life, whatever that may be:

"Broad is the way that leadeth to destruction and many there be that go therein."

It is easy enough to do what is expected of us, but it is difficult to find the person who will do it.

Most people soldier on the job.

"Creation's cry goes up

From age to cheated age;
Give us the men who do the work
For which they get the wage."

The demand is not for unusual men, for geniuses, nor for men of extraordinary ability. The demand is simply for men who will do what they are paid for doing.

And the demand exceeds the supply. Whoever will make it a rule to do just a little more than he is expected to do is on the sure way to success. Whoever makes it a rule simply to get by or to do as little as possible, is on the way to mediocrity.

I know a great many employers of labor. I do not know any who are not constantly harassed by the difficulty of finding good labor. I know of a great many laborers. But I do not know of any one who is satisfied and happy who is not doing all he can. And I do not know of any one who is dissatisfied and a maker of trouble who is not doing as little as he can. Work seems to be the universal panacea. It not only smooths things out between employers and employees, but it helps things between employees themselves.

It is difficult to restrain the inferiority complex and it is as difficult to restrain the superiority complex. There are laborers who are angry with the boss because he makes more money. And there are bosses that are angry with the laborers because they make so much.

There is a simple and sure test for this matter. It is the test of honesty and fidelity.

In any man, be boss or laborer, doing his stunt as he should do it? In that case he is worth the price he gets and more.

Moulton Says Child Labor Has Grim Political Effect

By Roy K. Moulton

CHILD labor, the disgrace of our more-or-less enlightened civilization, should not be viewed wholly from the humanitarian angle. It has a political aspect which is grim, threatening and heavy with significance as a producer of potential anarchists.

No time has ever been so ripe for a consideration of the long-range and almost unbelievable condition. America even today is in sore need of the moral or active influence of the best of citizenship—intelligence, efficiency, healthy and patriotic. Its need in the future can only be imagined.

It behooves America to take stock of the sort of citizen she is raising. For political reasons alone child labor is a question of overwhelming importance. We leave all sentiment and humanitarian feeling out of it.

Look at the Negro when that became, in the minds of the governing powers, a political issue. But white children are still the victims of slavery.

Regarding the matter from a cold political standpoint, which is usually the viewpoint of the abolition of child slavery is absolutely necessary to the perpetuation of our republican institutions. Every child laborer graduated from the mills is a potential trouble-maker—if you please, a red or an anarchist—through ignorance.

And common sense tells us that the child, grown to manhood or womanhood amid the environment of ignorance, brutality and moral neglect, cannot be otherwise.

Whenever a reign of terror has overtaken any country or any people it has had for its active force men who have been stunted in physical development, warped in mind and heart, and devoid of morals. With such persons as these, how can the great mass of followers be described?

One great reign of terror not so long ago was accounted for by one scientist as a result of bad teeth and other physical imperfections, including the social disease.

The reign of terror in France which resulted in atrocities almost unheard of in history was contained and directed by men who were their beginnings almost in child slavery. Mentally they were warped and physically they were stunted.

The horrible Marat was killed by Charlotte Corday at a dinner table. He was forced to spend his entire time in this tub on account of a loathsome disease. Robespierre was an invalid. Other leaders, who should the followers be but the "men of the guillotine" of Paris, the hoodlums and the murderers and the degenerate!

The rank and file, made up of morose fanatics and the like, did not produce of slavery-forever!

Our humanitarian duty toward these children is so patent, so obvious and so well known that it requires no mention here. Our political duty toward them is toward the ideals of our form of government should not be overlooked.

It is from a cold, practical viewpoint, the most important argument against the system of child labor, a disgrace which, if legislators are thinking, should not be scrubbed out of our national consciousness.

Generally manage to do the right thing finally. It would be glorious to do the right thing by the child slave NOW.
